ransHackFeminist (THF!) is a gathering of queer feminist and visionary hackers. The THT! report of 2014 states:

"Multinational ICT companies are acting as moral and hypocrite censors; gender-based online violence in the form of trolling and hateful machoists is harassing feminist or women activists online and offline; the internet has been transformed into a centralised consumption sanctuary; a space of control surveillance, tracking of dissent voices by government agencies among others."

being a feminist activist under threat, in the current unsafe cyber landscape.

What would you do?

THF! 2014 took place at Calafou autonomous collective in Catalonia. The poster of the even appropriates an image by Kenyan artist Wangecl transfuturistic cyborg cabaret," including the words gender hacking, anti-capitalism,libre culture, anti Mutu, and imposes on it text promoting the event:

Quest Card

